

Reading and Phonics

Curriculum Implementation

As a minimum, Green Ridge seeks to provide children with the following knowledge, skills and understanding as outlined in the National Curriculum (2014):

Reading

The programmes of study for reading at key stages 1 and 2 consist of 2 dimensions:

- word reading
- comprehension (both listening and reading)

Reading - word reading Year 1

Pupils should be taught to:

- apply phonic knowledge and skills as the route to decode words
- respond speedily with the correct sound to graphemes (letters or groups of letters) for all 40+ phonemes, including, where applicable, alternative sounds for graphemes
- read accurately by blending sounds in unfamiliar words containing GPCs that have been taught
- read common exception words, noting unusual correspondences between spelling and sound and where these occur in the word
- read words containing taught GPCs and –s, –es, –ing, –ed, –er and –est endings
- read other words of more than one syllable that contain taught GPCs
- read words with contractions [for example, I'm, I'll, we'll], and understand that the apostrophe represents the omitted letter(s)
- read books aloud, accurately, that are consistent with their developing phonic knowledge and that do not require them to use other strategies to work out words
- reread these books to build up their fluency and confidence in word reading

Reading – comprehension Year 1

Pupils should be taught to:

- develop pleasure in reading, motivation to read, vocabulary and understanding by:
- listening to and discussing a wide range of poems, stories and non-fiction at a level beyond that at which they can read independently
- being encouraged to link what they read or hear to their own experiences
- becoming very familiar with key stories, fairy stories and traditional tales, retelling them and considering their particular characteristics
- recognising and joining in with predictable phrases
- learning to appreciate rhymes and poems, and to recite some by heart
- discussing word meanings, linking new meanings to those already known
- understand both the books they can already read accurately and fluently and those they listen to by:
- drawing on what they already know or on background information and vocabulary provided by the teacher
- checking that the text makes sense to them as they read, and correcting inaccurate reading
- discussing the significance of the title and events
- making inferences on the basis of what is being said and done
- predicting what might happen on the basis of what has been read so far
- participate in discussion about what is read to them, taking turns and listening to what others say
- explain clearly their understanding of what is read to them

Reading - word reading Year 2

Pupils should be taught to:

- continue to apply phonic knowledge and skills as the route to decode words until automatic decoding has become embedded and reading is fluent
- read accurately by blending the sounds in words that contain the graphemes taught so far, especially recognising alternative sounds for graphemes
- read accurately words of two or more syllables that contain the same graphemes as above
- read words containing common suffixes
- read further common exception words, noting unusual correspondences between spelling and sound and where these occur in the word
- read most words quickly and accurately, without overt sounding and blending, when they have been frequently encountered
- read aloud books closely matched to their improving phonic knowledge, sounding out unfamiliar words accurately, automatically and without undue hesitation
- reread these books to build up their fluency and confidence in word reading

Reading – comprehension Year 2

Pupils should be taught to:

- develop pleasure in reading, motivation to read, vocabulary and understanding by:
- listening to, discussing and expressing views about a wide range of contemporary and classic poetry, stories and non-fiction at a level beyond that at which they can read independently
- discussing the sequence of events in books and how items of information are related
- becoming increasingly familiar with and retelling a wider range of stories, fairy stories and traditional tales
- being introduced to non-fiction books that are structured in different ways
- recognising simple recurring literary language in stories and poetry
- discussing and clarifying the meanings of words, linking new meanings to known vocabulary
- discussing their favourite words and phrases
- continuing to build up a repertoire of poems learnt by heart, appreciating these and reciting some, with appropriate intonation to make the meaning clear
- understand both the books that they can already read accurately and fluently and those that they listen to by:
- drawing on what they already know or on background information and vocabulary provided by the teacher
- checking that the text makes sense to them as they read, and correcting inaccurate reading
- making inferences on the basis of what is being said and done
- answering and asking questions
- predicting what might happen on the basis of what has been read so far
- participate in discussion about books, poems and other works that are read to them and those that they can read for themselves, taking turns and listening to what others say
- explain and discuss their understanding of books, poems and other material, both those that they listen to and those that they read for themselves.

Reading - word reading Years 3 and 4

Pupils should be taught to:

- apply their growing knowledge of root words, prefixes and suffixes (etymology and morphology) as listed in - see English appendix 1, both to read aloud and to understand the meaning of new words they meet

- read further exception words, noting the unusual correspondences between spelling and sound, and where these occur in the word

Reading – comprehension Years 3 and 4

Pupils should be taught to:

develop positive attitudes to reading, and an understanding of what they read, by:

- listening to and discussing a wide range of fiction, poetry, plays, non-fiction and reference books or textbooks
- reading books that are structured in different ways and reading for a range of purposes
- using dictionaries to check the meaning of words that they have read
- increasing their familiarity with a wide range of books, including fairy stories, myths and legends, and retelling some of these orally
- identifying themes and conventions in a wide range of books
- preparing poems and play scripts to read aloud and to perform, showing understanding through intonation, tone, volume and action
- discussing words and phrases that capture the reader’s interest and imagination
- recognising some different forms of poetry [for example, free verse, narrative poetry]
- understand what they read, in books they can read independently, by:
- checking that the text makes sense to them, discussing their understanding, and explaining the meaning of words in context
- asking questions to improve their understanding of a text
- drawing inferences such as inferring characters’ feelings, thoughts and motives from their actions, and justifying inferences with evidence
- predicting what might happen from details stated and implied
- identifying main ideas drawn from more than 1 paragraph and summarising these
- identifying how language, structure, and presentation contribute to meaning
- retrieve and record information from non-fiction
- participate in discussion about both books that are read to them and those they can read for themselves, taking turns and listening to what others say

Reading - word reading Years 5 and 6

Pupils should be taught to:

- apply their growing knowledge of root words, prefixes and suffixes (morphology and etymology), as listed in English appendix 1, both to read aloud and to understand the meaning of new words that they meet

Reading – comprehension Years 5 and 6

Pupils should be taught to:

- maintain positive attitudes to reading and an understanding of what they read by:
- continuing to read and discuss an increasingly wide range of fiction, poetry, plays, non-fiction and reference books or textbooks
- reading books that are structured in different ways and reading for a range of purposes
- increasing their familiarity with a wide range of books, including myths, legends and traditional stories, modern fiction, fiction from our literary heritage, and books from other cultures and traditions
- recommending books that they have read to their peers, giving reasons for their choices
- identifying and discussing themes and conventions in and across a wide range of writing
- making comparisons within and across books
- learning a wider range of poetry by heart
- preparing poems and plays to read aloud and to perform, showing understanding through intonation, tone and volume so that the meaning is clear to an audience

- understand what they read by:
- checking that the book makes sense to them, discussing their understanding and exploring the meaning of words in context
- asking questions to improve their understanding

- predicting what might happen from details stated and implied
- summarising the main ideas drawn from more than 1 paragraph, identifying key details that support the main ideas
- identifying how language, structure and presentation contribute to meaning
- discuss and evaluate how authors use language, including figurative language, considering the impact on the reader
- distinguish between statements of fact and opinion
- retrieve, record and present information from non-fiction
- participate in discussions about books that are read to them and those they can read for themselves, building on their own and others' ideas and challenging views courteously
- explain and discuss their understanding of what they have read, including through formal presentations and debates, maintaining a focus on the topic and using notes where necessary
- provide reasoned justifications for their views

Programme of study- Phonics

Green Ridge broadly uses the scheme of work outlined in the Letters and Sounds DfE document (2007) which gives a sequential overview to the content taught across all phases.

Book Expectations

- For phonic sessions up to the end of Phase 5, the children will use the Reach2 phonics workbooks.
- It should be evident in the books that errors/ omissions have been underlined in red by the teacher and the children have acted on this immediately with a blue pencil.
- If children have noticed any errors/ omissions themselves then they can edit their own work with a green pencil.
- A tick should NOT be used to acknowledge anything unless it is to mark a spelling test.

Phonics Lesson Structure- General

- Teachers should use correct vocabulary at all times. Use the language of phonemes, digraphs, trigraphs, pseudo words, tricky words, dot and dashes, blending and segmenting. See Appendix 1 for full list of terminology.
- The sound search and blending application part of the session should take no longer than ten minutes. The remainder of the session should be used to teach a new sound and then apply this through segmenting and sentence writing.

Session content overview- Phase 2-5

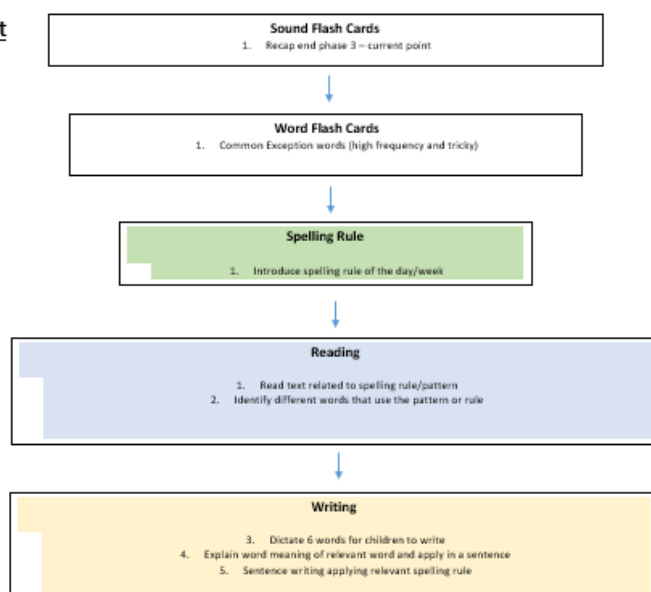

Staple Phonics diet

Session content overview-Phase 6 +

Staple Phonics diet

Phase 6+

A sound display will be displayed in each area where phonics takes place. The chart will be personalised to each group and will include sounds learned and new words for children to recognise and begin to spell.

Teacher feedback should be immediate, and children taught to edit with a green pencil.

Planning Expectations

- Planning should be completed weekly and saved in the relevant file in the shared system;
 - S:\Planning\Planning 19-20\Phonics (and then within the relevant Phase file)
 - The sounds and tricky words that are being focused on should be highlighted on the planning.

Marking and Feedback

- Feedback must be immediate through all phonics sessions. Teachers should be moving around the class giving instant feedback and next steps.
- Use a red pen to underline errors/ omissions for children to correct immediately.
- Children should be taught to edit their work with a blue pencil from Phase 2.

KS2 phonics/spelling

At Green Ridge, our expectation is that the majority of children will have completed and be proficient in Phase 6 of the spelling and phonics programme which will have finished by the end of Year Two. However, we recognise that all children have differing needs – for example, those children with English as an Additional Language, those children with Special Educational Needs, and those children who may require additional support to achieve the required standard. As a result, when children enter Year Three, they are assessed to determine their phonic skills.

For those children upon entry to Year Three and through Key Stage 2 there are whole-class spelling, grammar and punctuation lessons (SPaG) which take place daily with the class teacher. Three of these lessons will be focussed on spelling (using the KS2 Staple Diet lesson format) and two around punctuation and grammar. These lessons are differentiated according to individual needs. Class teachers take due note of where their class needs are.

In Key Stage 2, class teachers focus their planning to meet the requirements of the National Curriculum requirements for each year-group. There may be a need for revision of earlier phases and spelling rules as appropriate.

Whole Class Reading Skills

Intent

Children are taught within their class for reading skills sessions daily (separate to phonics sessions). Reading will be based around fiction, non-fiction and poetry.

Reading Skills Lesson Content- General

The following elements contribute towards the reading diet in Key Stage One and Two:

- Within English lessons, children have exposure to a range of texts and genres as part of the Pie Corbett Talk for writing sequence of teaching.
- Reading will be taught discretely five times a week in 30-minute sessions.
- Children will be exposed to a text which is generally just beyond that of the most able reader within the class as a whole class. This is where the teacher will be modelling how to read with expression and enable the teacher to assess children's understanding of the different aspects of comprehension. Where possible, the text read will link to the current class theme for that half-term. To aid with ensuring that the text is of the appropriate pitch, the school refers to the Herts for Learning Recommended Narrative booklist (2014).
- As part of their theme learning, children will have access to a range of texts to develop reading (e.g. newspaper articles, reference materials).
- In Reception daily reading skills sessions will be introduced where appropriate, using the Pie Corbett reading spine books.

Scientific Texts

Green Ridge makes use of the VIPERS approach to developing reading skills, which include:

- V – Vocabulary
- I – Infer
- P – Predict
- E – Explain
- R – Retrieve
- S – Sequence or summarise

These are considered the core skills of reading and link specifically to the National Curriculum reading domains. Others (such as visualisation) will also be included as necessary. Teachers will ensure children have a balance of skills across the week and over each term so that they have opportunities to develop their complete reading skills.

Book Expectations

Year 1:

- The children will not record reading skills work in books initially. They will move towards recording some responses in reading skills books throughout the Spring/Summer Term.

Year 2- Year 6:

- The children will record some written responses in their books three times a week, this may be linked to any of the sessions or VIPERS skills.

Marking and Feedback

- Feedback must be immediate through all reading skills sessions. Teachers should be moving around the class giving instant feedback and next steps.
- Use a red pen to underline errors/ omissions for children to correct immediately.
- Children should be taught to edit their work with a green and blue pencil (see Marking and Feedback Policy for more information).

Library

- The children will visit the library once a fortnight. During this time, they will be able to browse, read books and select a book to take home.
- In addition to this the children will read and discuss a book from the current library theme.

Spring 2	Inspirational Women (to fit in with International Women's Day)
Summer 1	Local History
Summer 2	LGBT (to fit in with Pride)

Home Learning in Reception and Key Stage One

Children in Reception will be given a set of words related to the sound they are learning and non-decodable words relevant to their phonic phase to take home and practise. These may be a combination of decodable and tricky words.

When children enter Year One, children are grouped for phonics across the year group (Year One and Year Two). Relevant spelling words will be sent home on a Friday via the newsletter and will reflect the learning for that week and group.

Home Learning in Key Stage Two

There is an expectation that spelling rules and patterns set for home-learning will link to the National Curriculum expectations for the year-group. Relevant spelling words will be sent home on a Friday via the newsletter and will reflect the learning for that week and group.

Wider reading curriculum

Reading skills filter across the whole curriculum as these skills are needed for all subjects to build knowledge and access information.

Assessment

As an academy, we use PIRA tests in KS1 and KS2 to assess reading skills and within Early Years the children are assessed using a Letters and Sounds analysis.

Appendix 1- Phonics Glossary

Phonics Glossary for Staff

Phoneme - The smallest unit of sound. There are approximately 44 phonemes in English (it depends on different accents). Phonemes can be put together to make words.

Grapheme - A way of writing down a phoneme. Graphemes can be made up from 1 letter e.g. p, 2 letters e.g. sh, 3 letters e.g. tch or 4 letters e.g. ough.

GPC - This is short for Grapheme Phoneme Correspondence. Knowing a GPC means being able to match a phoneme to a grapheme and vice versa.

Digraph - A grapheme containing two letters that makes just one sound (phoneme). Two letters that make one sound.

Trigraph - A grapheme containing three letters that makes just one sound (phoneme). Three letters that make one sound.
